

CONTENTS

Preface	p. 9
ANDREAS H. JUCKER, “English historical pragmatics: Problems of data and methodology”	p. 17
AXEL HÜBLER, “From body language to embodied language: Changes in the expressiveness of conversation during the 16 th and 17 th centuries”	p. 57
LAURA WRIGHT, “On the construction of some Early Modern English courtroom narratives”	p. 79
MARIA LUISA MAGGIONI, “Words of women in Middle English Arthurian romances”	p. 103
ROLANDO BACCHIELLI, “Verb-particle combinations («phrasal verbs») in Chaucer’s language. A historical issue in a pragmatic dimension”	p. 115
NICOLA PANTALEO, “Distancing and focusing strategies in direct vs. implicit addressing: The pragmatics of pronoun switching in Middle English religious writing”	p. 129
GABRIELLA DEL LUNGO CAMICIOTTI, “Orality and written texts: The representation of discourse in the Book of Margery Kempe ”	p. 143
RICHARD DURY, “Pronouns of address in Early Modern English: The use of oblique forms”	p. 159
ROBERTA FACCHINETTI, “Unlocking the pragmatics of modal-ad-verb collocations in Early Modern English”	p. 177
MARIA LIMA, “‘Insiderness’ and ‘outsiderness’ via language use in context and modals in Jacques Bellot’s Familiar Dialogues ”	p. 193
DAVID HART, “Power and powerlessness in Shakespearean dialogues”	p. 209
GABRIELLA DI MARTINO, “Politeness strategies in 17 th -century didactics dialogues”	p. 227
MAURIZIO GOTTI, “Pragmatics aspects of modal verbs in some 18 th century English grammars”	p. 247
GIOVANNI IAMARTINO, “Pragmatically speaking in early modern England: Usage labels and notes in Johnson’s Dictionary ”	p. 263
GIULIANA RUSSO, “A stylistic analysis of Lindley Murray’s and William Cobbett’s English Grammars : Prescriptive grammars as text types”	p. 283
MARINA DOSSENA, “Truth and murder will out: Reported speech and quoted speech in 19 th century accounts of the Highland Clearances”	p. 299
VANDA POLESE, “Anaphora and pro-forms in textual discourse: A pragmatic approach to ‘problematic’ co-reference in The Pickwick Papers ”	p. 319
LAURA PINNAVAIA, “English idiomatic expressions: A historical pragmatic analysis”	p. 339

GIULIANA DIANI, “The speech act of agreeing in 20 th century dramatic dialogues”	p. 353
LUISANNA FODDE, “The affective quality of some effective particles: The tense aspect system in African American Vernacular English”	p. 381
LETIZIA VEZZOSI, “S-genitive and of -genitive: Competitors or complementary strategies? A diachronic analysis”	p. 399
PATRICK LEECH, “«Who Says Manchester Says Cotton»: Textile terminology in the Oxford English Dictionary (1000-1960)”	p. 433
Contributors	p. 471