European Master Course TEMA European territories: identity and development

The 2-year-long (120 ECTS) European Master Course TEMA European territories (civilisation, nation, region, city): identity and development proposes the analysis of political use and scientific representation of territorial units (civilization, nation, region, city) in an interdisciplinary, research-based curriculum.

Organised in four major modules: civilization, nation, region and city, that represent four research scales, as well as four different approaches to historical, political, social and cultural issues of space and those of territory, the TEMA Master provides students with an in-depth understanding of European cohesion policy and regional development emphasising on legal framework and scientific analysis.

Philip Carl Salzman is Professor of Anthropology at McGill University in Montreal, Canada. In 2010, he was Houtan Senior Visiting Fellow in the Anthropology of Iran, at St. Andrews University, Scotland. In 2011-12 he is Open Society Institute International Fellow for Anthropology at the American University of Central Asia, Kyrgyzstan, and Erasmus Mundus Scholar at the University of Catania, Sicily. He has carried out ethnographic field research in Iranian Baluchistan, Gujarat and Rajasthan in India, and Sardinia, Italy. His publications include The Anthropology of Real Life: Events in Human Experience (1999), Black Tents of Baluchistan (2000, winner of the Premio Pitre-Salomone Marino), Understanding Culture: An Introduction to Anthropological Theory (2001), Pastoralists: Equality, Hierarchy, and the State (2004), Culture and Conflict in the Middle East (2008), Postcolonial Theory and the Arab-Israeli Conflict (edited with Donna Robinson Divine, 2008), Thinking Anthropologically, 3rd Edition (edited with Pat Rice, 2010), and Classic Comparative Anthropology (2011, dated 2012).
